

CHINA-BASED

TOXICOLOGIST

Title: Toxicologist

Department: Toxicology

Reports to: Director of Toxicology, Pathology, and Laboratory Animal Medicine

Location: Chengdu, China

Minimum Qualifications:

- BS/BA degree
- Computer skills
- Communication and writing skills
- Ability to work independently

Study Responsibilities:

- Assist in preparation of study protocols and amendments
- Participate in pre-initiation meetings
- Review study schedule and formulation procedures
- Ensure that all study related events are performed as scheduled, i.e., randomization, dosing, collection of clinical samples, necropsy, and report
- Monitor critical phases of study and interact with toxicology staff and subcontractors, as needed, for compliance with protocol, SOPs and applicable regulations
- Periodically review study data. Prepare data summaries for Study Directors and clients as required.
- Assist Study Director in preparation of the final report, to include, initial draft of the abstract, results and discussion
- Coordinate report production with the research associate and documentation specialist
- Assist in responses to in-life phase QA audits
- Oversee disposition of study specimens, i.e., test article, formulations, blood samples, preserved tissue
- Monitor budget as directed by study director

Corporate Responsibilities:

- Perform job functions in accordance with departmental and corporate mission
- Assist with client and regulatory visits
- Assist in development and validation of new procedures and SOPs
- Perform other duties as assigned

Professional Responsibilities:

- Assist in the preparation of abstracts/manuscripts for presentation or publication
- Maintain active involvement in professional organizations
- Participate in continuing education programs

Email or fax your resume today to:
HR@frontierbsi.com or (301) 515-5562